Floating Point Digital Images

A beautiful fractal printed onto window-cling material

www.fpdimages.com

3,264 sq/inches of 600dpi weatherproof fractal loveliness

It doesn't matter whether you're a hobbyist or pro, one day you may want to be able to show your talents to the world.

A 30" x 70" banner, rendered and printed by us at 600dpi

You might even be able to sell your art for others to enjoy.

Whatever the reason, you'll need a trusted, conscientious print-shop working alongside you to help bring the detail and life of your fractals to print.

Floating Point Digital Images can be that partner. We understand the importance of clarity, that accurate colours are the be-all and end-all, and we'll do it economically, and conveniently, shipping free right to your door.

Complimentary Rendering

At Floating Point we'll render your Ultra-Fractal at high resolution for free on our network of computers. Just send us the fractal definition and we'll do the rest. No need to upload huge image files, no need to send CD's, just the upr.

Fine Detail

Ever tried to explain to a mainstream print-shop what a fractal is and why a 150dpi print just won't cut it? Mainstream stores don't want to print high resolution. The plotter has to be run slower, it uses more ink since the sheet is 'full coverage', they have to swap in specialized paper and it's not nearly as profitable for them.

FPDI Understands Fractals

We understand why 600dpi is needed.

We understand why the colour can't be skewed.

We understand why banding is unacceptable.

48 hours of rendering were required for this print

We understand why high-quality materials need to be used.

Print By The Inch

You only pay for what you print. This is typically between 5 and 7cents per square inch (Canadian dollars) depending on the material you use. We don't charge extra for 'high ink coverage' like typical print shops.

We don't charge you for the material we trim off, therefore your fractal can be any size you like, not constrained to standard sizes. We calculate to the nearest inch—not foot or yard.

Banners, Stickers, Paper

It doesn't matter to us. We'll print your fractal onto a banner, paper, window cling, even stickers. Be creative. The inks are weatherproof and UV stable.

Free Shipping

All projects are shipped worldwide for free via the postal service or FedEx.
